

Since signing up when the telephone privacy law was enacted, I have been completely happy with the lack of unnecessary phone calls to my home. I do not want a financial institution, even if I have a relationship with them, to be able to call with unnecessary promotions. If I want to be informed, I will give them my email address in order to receive this type of information. Please do not allow the established business relationship exemption to apply to this association. Thank you.